Messrs, J. and E. Wade have rented a farm in Shelby county and have removed hence. Their sister, Miss Mildred, accompanied them to take charge of the house.

Misses Bettie Richardson and Linda Triplett, of Frankfort, and Rev.— Savage, of Lawrenceburg Circuit, spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week with the family of Mr. J. C. McChesney.

Mr. W D. McChesney has a sheep that last July became perfectly blind and remained in this condition for four months, when its sight was re-stored. This is truly applicable to its case, "Once I was blind but now I see."

Already the smoke has been seen curling from vale to hill top from the great brush and log heaps used in the preparation of tobacco beds I wonder if by climbing to one of the hill tops around here we can see this year. der if by climbing to one of the hill tops around here we can see this year as many yards of canvass as we did last

Messrs. Hulette, Conway, W. D. & MAJOR as a candidate for Representative of Tuesday of last week in Louisville. These gentlemen reported tobacco very low, and vast quantities on the market. Polk says: "boys, lets not talk about tobacco, for it makes me feel bad." The low prices of this weed will nearly ruin men who rented land, paying high prices for it.
